DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment was received on 9/9/05, and has been entered and made of record. Currently, claims 12-16, 18-20, and 26-29 are pending.

Claim Objections

2. The objection to claims 15, 18-20, and 27-29, as cited in the Office action dated 6/22/05, is withdrawn, as the changes set forth in the amendment overcome the informalities.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 12-16, 18-20, and 26-29 are allowed (renumbered as claims 1-5, 7, 9, 11, 6, 8, 10, and 12, respectively).

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 12, 18, 19, and 20 (renumbered claims 1, 7, 9, and 11, respectively), after further review of the cited references, the examiner believes that it would not have been obvious to have the systems, as claimed, include the features of performing a notification operation, when the facsimile communication has been executed through the Internet, and not performing the notification operation when the number of pages of the facsimile information to be transmitted through the Internet is not more than a predetermined value. While the examiner previously cited the references of Ishibashi et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,374,291) and Okutomi et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,211,972), upon reconsideration, these references each fail to particularly teach of not performing a notification operation when the number of pages of the facsimile information that is to be transmitted through the Internet is not more than a predetermined value. As discussed in the Office action dated 6/22/05, Ishibashi fails to particularly teach of not performing a notification operation when the number of pages to be transmitted is not more than a predetermined value. Further, while Okutomi does teach of not transmitting a facsimile message when the number of pages is greater than a certain amount, Okutomi fails to teach if the facsimile is a notification operation of the number of pages that are to be transmitted over the Internet. Because of these features, that the claims are now rendered allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
